termination unless the end date of the grant requires earlier repatriation or relocation and shipment of household effects.

(b) The Employer will inform the Guild of the date the employee is to leave the post. If an employee fails to leave his/her overseas post by the date determined by the Employer, the employee shall be removed from payroll.

(c) If an employee fails to report as scheduled for debriefing, he/she shall be removed from payroll.

9. Personnel File

Subject to financial, contractual and programmatic considerations:

(a) If the qualifications and experience of two (2) applicants are relatively equal, preference will be given to the employee whose post is ending.

(b) If both applicants' posts will be ending within six (6) months, seniority within job classification will determine the placement.

(c) In the event that no other member applies for the position(s), the employee whose post is expected or scheduled to end within six (6) months shall be selected for and offered the assignment(s) in accordance with Article 5.

11. First time programmatic assignments will be communicated to Country Program Directors by the Regional Program Director or the Executive Director or designee. Programmatic work assignments from outside the Solidarity Center not authorized by a Regional Program Director or the Executive Director or designee are not subject to disciplinary procedures.

ARTICLE 5 - FILLING OF VACANCIES

1. The Guild shall be notified of all vacancies covered by this Agreement. The term "vacancy" includes an opening in an existing position under this Agreement or an opening resulting from the creation of a new position under this Agreement. The Employer recognizes the importance of seniority and desirability of filling vacancies by promotion or transfer. Prior to interviewing external candidates, the Employer will interview and notify each Guild applicant and the Guild in writing of their decision and rationale. The Employer shall provide fair consideration to unit applicants prior to interviewing outside candidates.

2. Within twenty (20) working days of a position's becoming vacant, the Employer shall post the vacancy by email consistent with the provisions of this Article and will notify the Guild of the Employer's intentions as to the filling, leaving vacant, abolishment, or reclassification of the vacant position. In the latter event, the Employer shall discuss with the Guild.

3. Posting Process

(a) The vacancy shall be posted by email and filled at the salary and grade level specified in the contract for the position. In the case of a new job classification, the Employer and the Guild shall try to reach agreement on the salary and grade level. If no agreement is reached, the Employer has the right to post the position at the salary and grade level it deems appropriate, and the Guild has the right to grieve and arbitrate the salary and grade level.

(b) The employee shall have fifteen (15) working days from the date of the posting email to apply for the vacancy. The Employer shall not advertise to non-bargaining unit applicants within this fifteen (15) working day posting period without prior agreement with the Guild. However, the Employer shall notify all Solidarity Center staff of any Guild unit vacancy.

4. Posting Details

(a) Postings for vacancies shall be written by the Employer and shall specify the minimum qualifications (e.g., experience, education, and skills). The parties recognize that some positions may require special skills and qualifications. Those skills and qualifications shall be directly linked to the successful performance of the job.

(b) Postings for vacancies in countries in which host country taxes have been paid shall disclose that fact.

5. When qualifications and experience are relatively equal, the senior bidder shall be awarded the position.

6. The Employer shall attempt to interview Guild applicants within three (3) weeks after the close of each posting period. Thereafter, the Employer shall inform the Guild upon request of the status of efforts to fill the posted position.

7. The Employer and the Guild shall cooperate to improve the new employee orientation, in order to reduce anxiety and provide guidelines for behavior and conduct in a foreign country, and to assist the new employee to adjust to their job and working environment.

The Employer provides an orientation to new Employees, which will provide the new employee with a general overview of the rights, responsibilities and benefits of employment with the Solidarity Center. The primary focus of the orientation will be how to successfully implement and manage professional duties, including political, technical and logistical aspects of work and life in the field. The specific content of this orientation shall be discussed in the Labor-Management Committee.

In the orientation, the Employer shall provide specific information such as the registration status, visa requirements, banking, power of attorney and other necessary legal context for the functioning of programs in the countries they are responsible for. The Employer will provide a framework to allow more experienced Guild members to mentor new Guild employees who are transitioning into the field, using paid work time.

At a later date, additional training on SC financial/accounting practices and requirements will be provided.

In addition, the Employer shall provide Employees with security training by a qualified security professional. Security training will be provided upon transfer or re-assignment to a new post. This security training shall include concerns particular to under-represented groups (women, LGBTQ, persons with disabilities, etc.) for new employees.

The Guild shall also have the right to meet the new employee and to provide an overview of the collective bargaining agreement. Where practicable, the Employer shall coordinate with the Guild to arrange for the new employee to visit with the Guild's regional shop steward and/or his/her predecessor in the field in order to facilitate the smoother transition of the new employee to effectively promote the SC mission. Where there are funding constraints this may be done via video conference.

8. The Employer shall assist Employees to obtain work visas for themselves and their family members and shall reimburse Employees for reasonable and necessary expenses relating to these visas. Assistance to family members shall be limited to country of posting assistance and to routine processing of visas, unless additional assistance can be acquired without incurring further costs.

9. During the orientation period prior to a new posting, the employee and supervisor will discuss how to balance programmatic needs during the first month in country, and how to provide reasonable and necessary time to secure the employee's immigration status, housing and household goods and familiarize him or herself with local office policies and operations. If applicable, the employee and supervisor also will discuss language training.

10. The Solidarity Center is committed to promoting diversity in hiring, recruitment and retention. It also recognizes the importance of work-life balance for its employees. The Solidarity Center and the Guild commit to discussing these issues in the Labor-Management Committee.

The Solidarity Center and the Guild will jointly strive to promote diversity in the unit, through empowering the Guild Diversity Committee to work with the Employer to develop concrete policies and practices to improve the recruitment and retention of women, people of color and other under-represented groups in the field.

The committee shall assess the challenges of the field positions and make recommendations on concrete practices for implementation on including, but not limited to, the promotion of affirmative action policies in hiring and promotions, the carrying out of inclusion and intersectionality trainings for Guild members and supervisors, and instituting policies to allow for greater flexibility in work scheduling for Guild members with family responsibilities. The Employer shall provide resources and support to allow the committee to fulfill its mission.

ARTICLE 6 – LAYOFF

1. The Employer agrees to provide immediate notification in writing to the Union when there is reason to believe that a reduction in force affecting members of the Union may be necessary as a result of a loss of funding or a reconfiguration of personnel. The Employer further agrees to maintain consultation with the representatives of the Guild regarding negotiations with funding sources that may result in a reduction in force affecting members of the Union. Internal funding allocations shall be considered before closing an office, eliminating or downgrading a Unit position.

2. In the event of a layoff affecting employees within the bargaining unit, except where a program is being discontinued or funding for a particular position ends, the Employer shall make layoffs in the identified field office(s) in the inverse seniority order of the employees in the office(s) provided that the remaining more senior employees have the ability and qualifications required to perform the work.

3. The Employer shall assign an employee identified for layoff to an available comparable position, provided the employee has the skills and qualifications necessary to perform the work.

4. Except in the case of a funding rescission, the Employer shall begin the process by consulting with the Guild three (3) weeks in advance of notice to the affected employees. Such consultation shall include providing the Guild with the following:

- (a) Identifying the field offices in which reductions will occur.
- (b) Identifying the names of those persons who the Employer intends to lay off.
- (c) Identifying any comparable positions into which employees targeted for layoff may be assigned. If the parties are unable to agree, employees may be offered the position that the Employer has determined are comparable.

5. The Employer after such consultation shall, except in the case of a funding rescission, provide as much notice as possible, but no less than an additional four (4) weeks' notice to the affected employees, or, at the Employer's option, provide pay in lieu of some or all of the notice.

6. No employee shall be laid off on the basis of being unable to perform their duties due to security reasons or the actions of a host country government, if the employee can perform their duties in an alternate feasible location. If the employee is unable to perform their duties in an alternate feasible location then they may be laid off, except as provided by Article 20.5.d, and the layoff notice periods in Sections 4 and 5 of this article shall run concurrently.

7. Severance

(a) The Employer shall provide an employee who actually is laid off with severance pay of one and one-half (1 ½) weeks' pay per year for the first seven years of service or major fraction thereof, and one (1) week's pay for each year or major fraction thereof for years eight (8) and beyond.

(b) A laid-off employee has the right under COBRA to purchase continuation of health care coverage or equivalent coverage for third party nationals. The Employer shall pay the COBRA premiums for the first three (3) months after the date of layoff. If the employee does not obtain health insurance in the first three (3) months after the date of layoff, the Employer shall pay up to an additional three (3) months of COBRA premiums. If the employee does not obtain health insurance in the first six (6) months after the date of layoff, the Employer shall pay up to an additional three (3) months of COBRA premiums.

(c) In the event a laid-off employee receives severance pay under section 7(a), and is recalled during the period for which he/she has received severance pay, the wages paid for the remainder of the severance pay period shall be reduced by the amount of severance pay received for the same period. Reduced amount of severance shall be credited back to employee for future severance payments, if any.

8. Recall:

(a) Each laid off employee shall be maintained on a recall list for twenty-four (24) months. If a relevant opening occurs during this period and the Employer has failed to notify the laid off employee, the laid off employee will be maintained on a recall list for an additional 12 months. During that period, the employee shall keep the Employer advised of his/her current contact information including e-mail address and telephone number.

(b) Before posting a vacant position the Employer shall offer the position to the most senior person on the recall list who is in the same classification or higher who has the ability and qualifications necessary to perform the job.

(c) If the employer decides not to offer a vacant position to an employee on the recall list, it will immediately notify the employee and the Guild stating the reasons why the employee is deemed not to have the necessary qualifications.

(d) The recall offer shall be made by e-mail to the last address the employee has provided to the Employer. A copy shall be provided to the Union.

(e) An employee on the recall list can access training monies in accordance with Article 17 (Education) for purposes of qualifying for recall.

(f) Recall rights shall be relinquished if the employee does not accept the comparable position offered within two (2) weeks after receipt of the offer and return to work within four (4) weeks after accepting the position offered, without a reason acceptable to the Employer.

(g) Employees shall be recalled at the rate of pay for the position to which recalled. However, if an employee refuses recall to a position in a classification lower than the position from which the employee was laid off, the employee shall not be removed from the recall list.

(h) If an employee is recalled, he/she shall be credited with any accumulated sick leave at the time of layoff.

9. Time spent on a recall list by a laid off employee shall not constitute a break in service or continuity of seniority. No seniority shall be earned while on layoff.

10. If a laid off employee receives severance pay under section 6 of this Article and is recalled, in the event of a future layoff the employee's seniority date for purposes of calculating severance pay under section 6 shall be the date the employee returns to work upon recall.

ARTICLE 7 - GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

1. All grievances arising under the terms of this Agreement shall be handled originally at the level at which they occur. Grievances shall be filed in writing within forty-five days after the occurrence or within forty-five days after the grievant becomes aware of the occurrence or, in the exercise of due diligence, should have become aware of the occurrence. For probationary employees, the forty-five (45) day period specified above shall be extended through the tenth (10th) day following the employee's successful completion of the probationary period. Otherwise, they shall not be considered grievances. Grievances shall be handled as set forth below.

2. Step One: There shall be a meeting or telephone conference call, between a Guild steward, the grievant, the Director or designee, and another Employer representative within thirty days of the receipt of the written grievance. The Director or designee shall respond in writing within thirty days of this meeting; failure to do so shall entitle the Guild to take the grievance to the next step. If the grievance is not resolved to the satisfaction of the Guild during this thirty day period, the Guild shall have no more than thirty days following the receipt of the written denial in which to refer the grievance to the next step in the grievance procedure by written notice to the Executive Director or designee.

3. When, in the judgment of the immediate supervisor or designee, the grievance relates to an organization-wide rather than a departmental issue, the immediate supervisor or designee shall refer the matter in writing to the Executive Director or designee within ten (10) days of meeting with the grievant and steward. Simultaneously, the immediate supervisor or designee shall give written notice to the grievant and steward that such referral has been made. That notification shall satisfy the Step One obligation of response. If settlement is not reached at this Step, then a grievance which is appealed in a timely manner shall be handled as set forth below.

4. In the event that the Director in Step One is the Executive Director, Step Two shall serve in lieu of Step One.

5. Step Two: The Guild Unit Chair or designee, the grievant, Guild Representative, the Executive Director or designee, and another Employer representative shall meet or conference call on any grievance referred to this Step within thirty days of referral. If the grievance is not resolved, the Employer shall respond in writing within forty-five days following this meeting; failure to do so shall affirm on behalf of the Guild without prejudice to the Employer.

6. Any matter involving the interpretation, application, administration or alleged violation of this Agreement (except renewal of this Agreement), including a question of whether or not a matter is arbitrable, not satisfactorily settled within thirty days of its submission to Step Two may be submitted to final and binding arbitration by either party within seventy-five (75) days of the submission to Step Two. The parties shall mutually agree to name no more than three (3) professional arbitrators to serve as the arbitration panel under this Agreement. Any disputes that are submitted to arbitration will be submitted to a member of the panel. To the extent feasible, disputes will be rotated equally among the members of the panel. Either party may remove a member of the panel at any time, except when a grievance is pending before that member; if a member of the panel is removed, the parties shall mutually agree on a replacement. If mutual agreement cannot be reached at any time on the makeup of the panel, then the regular American Arbitration Association rules and procedures for selection of an arbitrator shall apply. The cost of the arbitrator and any meeting room cost shall be borne equally by the parties. Each side shall bear its own travel and other costs.

7. In cases of discharge arbitrations, if the arbitrator reinstates the grievant, the Employer shall reimburse all of the grievant's transportation expenses. A grievance protesting a discharge shall bypass Step One and shall proceed directly to Step 2 section 5 for processing through the grievance procedure.

8. Failure to file a grievance in a timely fashion in one instance shall not preclude filing on a similar issue which occurs subsequently.

9. The term "grievant" shall be considered to include any individual staff member, a group of staff members or the Guild.

10. The time limits set forth in this Article may be extended by mutual agreement between the Employer and the Guild.

11. The terms "meeting" and "meet" refer to communication by telephone conference call, or, upon agreement of the parties, to a face-to-face meeting.

ARTICLE 8 – HOURS

1. The minimum workweek for employees shall be five (5) days and thirty-five (35) hours. The minimum workday shall be seven (7) hours exclusive of a meal break. The workdays and the standard business hours shall be in accordance with the business practices of the host country.

2. Employees shall maintain accurate daily records of the full number of hours worked and the cost centers to which the time is charged. In accordance with Solidarity Center policies, time sheets must be completed, signed and submitted every two weeks, no later than the Friday following the end of the pay period.

3. It is the policy of the Employer to follow the guidelines set by the applicable local government office with respect to closing, reporting, and departure times in the event of inclement weather.

4. The Employer recognizes the need of all employees to balance work and personal obligations, and agrees to minimize hardships created by short-notice out-of-town assignments. The Employer will encourage staff and managers to coordinate with field staff to organize meetings that are convenient to multiple time zones. Assignments will be discussed with the employee as far in advance as possible.

If an employee terminates his/her employment with less than five (5) years of service or is discharged prior to accruing the vacation time, the employee shall reimburse the Employer for the unaccrued vacation used.

5. After serving one (1) year at a post and agreeing to serve another one (1) year assignment at that post, employees may take home leave of up to four (4) weeks every year, and may use any combination of paid home leave, annual leave, compensatory time or leave without pay.
